

Happy Friday everyone!

Thanks to the parents who came to the back to school bonanza last night it was great speaking with you. If you would still like to meet please let me know when you are free and I'd be happy to go over my presentation again. I'd rather we all be on the same page any ways :) I will send home the information with families who were not here.

2 other important items that will be sent home today are the following:

1) Permission slip to the Art Prize field trip next Friday. If we don't have them in by next Friday your student will not be able to go. I am also still looking for a parent to join us next Friday from approximately 9-11 am. Let me know if you are interested, whoever responds first will go.

2) Some parents were asking last night about the Keycard Fundraiser, I received the information today and will be sending it home today. They are due back by November 3rd.

One last reminder, we will have school pictures next Wednesday and Thursday.

Have a great weekend!

God's blessings,

Mr. Harris
